

Enhance your Expertise

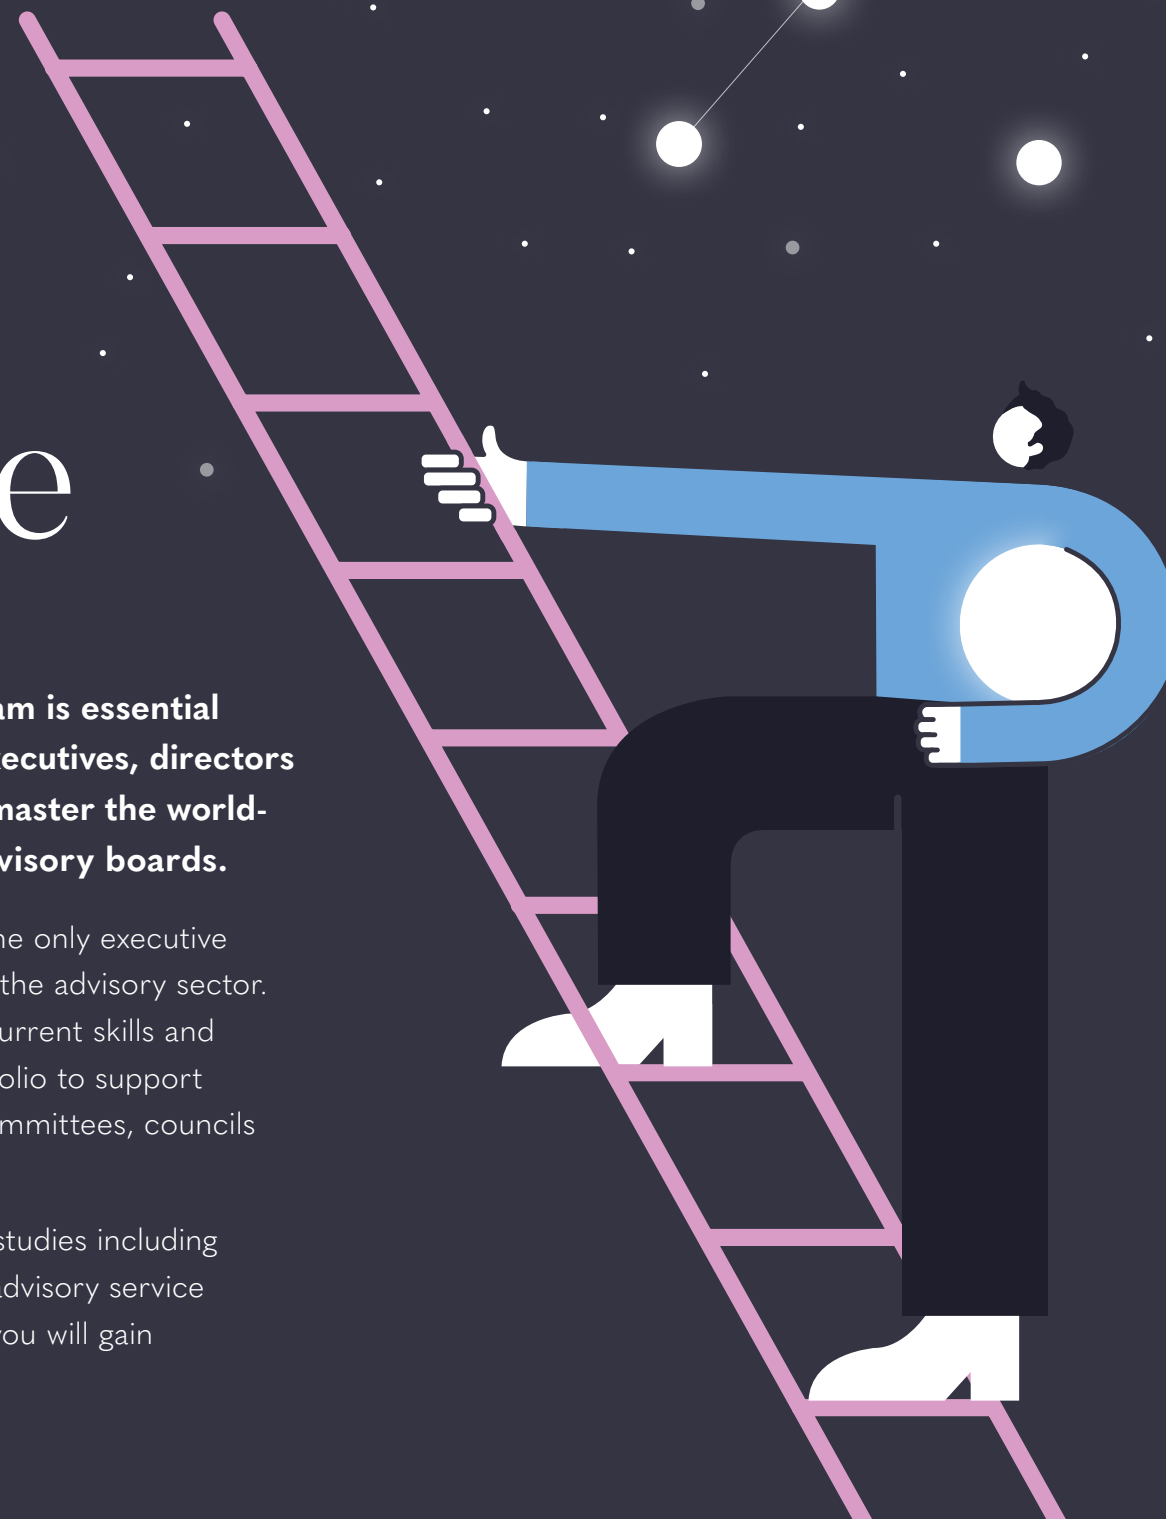

CERTIFIED CHAIR™
EXECUTIVE PROGRAM

Enhance your Expertise

The Certified Chair™ Executive Program is essential professional development for senior executives, directors and professional services providers to master the world-class standard for best practice in advisory boards.

The Certified Chair™ Executive Program is the only executive education globally developed specifically for the advisory sector. During the program, you will build on your current skills and knowledge to deliver new value in your portfolio to support the chairing of advisory boards, executive committees, councils or board level meetings.

You will explore validated research and case studies including business mapping models, assessments and advisory service delivery models. On successful completion you will gain recognition as a Certified Chair™.

Our Certified Chair™ Executive Program is unlike any other professional development program. You won't be expected to "unlearn" what you already know. Instead, we challenge you to take everything you already know, and build on it.

Learn how to leverage your wisdom and experience, combine this with a healthy dose of curiosity about the future, and deliver your value in an entirely new way.

The Certified Chair™ Executive Program equips you with the resources and methods to create maximum value in your engagements by enabling critical thinking, curiosity, robust discussion and practical analysis of strategic intent to support the "why" (or "why not?") for an organisation.

The program is suited for those who value currency of thinking, are active in their networks and are committed to making a personal impact.

ABOUT US

The Advisory Board Centre is the leading professional body for advisor engagement. Our key activities include research, advocacy, education and membership. Collectively, we raise the standard of the global advisory sector – driving value for professionals and the organisations they serve.

OUR STORY

In 2005, I established an advisory board to support the growth and international expansion of my own business. Following a successful exit, I wanted to share the positive impact of a well-run advisory board with other business owners.

I carefully researched best practice across the globe and was shocked to find there were no guidelines for a formal structure, no recognised framework, and no formal qualifications or body to champion the transformative power advisory boards can elicit.

This informal sector was highly fragmented, riddled with unethical behaviour and misaligned expectations. Many practitioners were making it up as they went. Organisations and quality advisory board members deserved better.

In 2017, the Advisory Board Centre was founded as an independent global professional body to provide a strong foundation, best practice frameworks and professional excellence to support the rapidly growing sector.

With a professional community spanning more than ten countries serving on hundreds of independent advisory boards, we are leading the cause to provide critical support and accreditation-based legitimacy to the advisory sector. Through our commitment to research-led and evidence-based outcomes, we've repeatedly proven and quantified the positive impact of advisory boards. They have an important complementary role to play, sitting alongside existing governance boards, non-executive directors, advisors, consultants, coaches, and mentors.

Consider joining this movement by becoming a Certified Chair™. In turn, you will provide strong leadership and positive impact with the utmost professional confidence for the organisations you serve.

Why should I become a Certified Chair™?

PROFESSIONAL PATHWAYS

"I wanted to transition from being a senior executive to more board roles – but I also wanted to be a better leader. I've gained a new network of colleagues and a pathway to my professional board career."

Mark Veyret
Certified Chair™

EMPOWERED ENGAGEMENT

"Becoming a Certified Chair™ increases the value provided to my existing clients, expands my professional services offering to new markets and gives me the opportunity to build camaraderie with extraordinary people."

Ken Goldberg
Certified Chair™

COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE

"It is a unique qualification that provides me with a competitive advantage. In addition to the accreditation, I am confident that I have the necessary resources and support to perform this role to a very high standard."

Joanne Thornton
Certified Chair™

THE ADVISORY ADVANTAGE

At least 2 million advisors are engaged worldwide with an estimated 660,000 advisory boards globally meeting the demands of emerging businesses, ambitious mid-market organisations, multinationals and corporations.

Businesses are seeking new ways to access real-world, non-biased advice from professional peers. The socialisation of information sharing, experience and contacts is seen as a fast-tracked approach to new opportunities.

Advisory professionals are seeking better ways to add value through using their areas of specialisation, experience, and extensive networks.

As they look to maximise the impact from their expertise, they also search for opportunities to deliver value in a broader context.

A formalised advisory board is a powerful and effective management tool. Its inherent flexibility allows the board structure to shift to meet the needs of the business, making the model a compelling instrument for strategic thinking and independent evaluation.
